Merlyn Launches New Frameless Range of Enclosures

The design team at Kilkenny based Merlyn has unveiled a new range of frameless enclosures. The range cleverly embodies the minimalist look, which is increasingly popular with design savvy consumers. The new frameless collection is part of the Series 8 range and is very highly specified incorporating some stunning design touches. Across all the models the glass is 8mm with a discreet, sleek chrome hinge concealed under the rail. The doors are conveniently reversible and wet-room compatible. The frame has a minimalist 30mm height with a Merlyn embossed badge to ensure its credentials. The enclosure benefits from Merlyn's trademark Mershield Stayclear glass. The minimalist style of the new Series 8 frameless range is bang on trend with the horizontal and symmetrical design of the hinge and the frame. The range includes a One Door and Offset Quadrant and a Hinge and Inline (for recess and with a side panel).

bulthaup Showroom Opens in Hanover Quay

Situated in the heart of the Dublin Docklands, the newly-opened bulthaup Hanover Quay showroom is located in what is fast becoming Dublin's most vibrant cultural hub. A bulthaup kitchen offers customers a comprehensive promise of quality, the security of seamless design solutions, and delivers a service that is truly unique. The design of living spaces is planned based on architecture of the new room and the individual needs of the customer, with new innovations giving bulthaup the edge over competitors. In April 2014, Realm Concepts Ltd became the sole authorized trading partner for bulthaup in Ireland, becoming part of the extended bulthaup family worldwide, and bringing these stunningly designed kitchens to the discerning Irish public. Designed in collaboration with Realm Concepts and bulthaup's own award-winning architects, the end result is the Hanover Quay showroom that seeks to demonstrate the unique design possibilities of a bulthaup kitchen, whilst accommodating a range of budgets.
